

Weather

This nonfiction Level B book illustrates the different types of weather. It relates to the Science, Mathematics and Language Arts curriculum.

High Frequency Words: today, it, is Suggested Ideas and Activities:

- Review and list all the different kinds of weather and what season they occur
- Teach the use of a thermometer
- Graph daily weather and record results including temperature
- Compare the weather for each week and month
- Discuss the reasons for the changes in weather
- Identify ways of predicting the weather
- Graph their favourite weather
- Discuss ways to be safe and healthy in different types of weather
- Write and illustrate a class book on the different types of weather
- Discuss the importance of the sun, wind, rain, snow and ice
- Play a matching game of clothing to weather
- Enjoy other books on the different kinds of weather

Suggested Readings:

The Cloud Book, by Tomie de Paola

Getting Ready For Winter, Curriculum Plus

The Snowy Day, by Ezra Jack Keats

Hello, World! Weather, by Jill McDonald

Maisy's Wonderful Weather Book, by Lucy Cousins

Snow Angels, Curriculum Plus

The Ice Storm, Curriculum Plus

National Geographic Kids Weather

I Like the Rain, by Claude Belanger